MC Technologies to Distribute Tallon in France

*9 November 2011
For Immediate Release*

Tallon has appointed MC Technologies as its French distributor for its range of mounting solutions and accessories.

The new distribution agreement is a shift in direction for Tallon, with former French Tallon distributor Jerome Lombard of La Rochelle now overseeing the entire European market.

MC Technologies is also the French Lowrance distributor, and through their extensive dealer network is one of the largest marine electronics suppliers in France.

Tallon and Lowrance recently ventured into a partnership that saw the development of a new Tallon Elite Socket with Lowrance connectivity. The new Tallon Elite Socket with Lowrance connectivity gives users with Lowrance Mark & Elite Series fishfinder and chartplotter/fishfinder systems true plug and play anywhere on the boat or kayak.

MC Technologies President Yann Labbe says the new Tallon distribution agreement was very timely for MC Technologies.

“We’re pleased to be able to offer this great marine accessory brand as part of our already extensive catalogue of marine electronics products – allowing us to provide users with a wide range of mounting solutions. We’re especially excited about offering the newly released Elite Lowrance Socket, which will be a great accessory alongside our range of Lowrance electronics,” says Labbe.

Tallon General Manager Duncan Good says the appointment of MC Technologies is a perfect fit for the two companies.

“We’re in the business of mounting and powering, they’re in the business of electronics, it’s a perfect fit for both companies,” says Good.

“We expect other international Lowrance distributors to come onboard and look to distribute the Tallon range of sockets and accessories.”

The Tallon Socket platforms are designed to accommodate a wide range of interchangeable accessories for Entertaining, Fishing, Diving and Power applications – enabling boaters to quickly and effortlessly install and swap out an endless range of marine accessories, while preserving the craft's design and clean lines.
